Kia ora koutou,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome education users back to NCMA without restriction from today. Please note your class may not start immediately, most will resume at the beginning of Term 4.

- If you were previously enrolled in a cancelled class our education team will be in contact with you soon with more information about term 4.
- If your lessons are currently delivered online, please assume they will remain online until the beginning of term 4.

Covid-19 restrictions have meant we have not been able to deliver a full term of lessons in some classes through term 3. If this applies to your class we will be in contact with you in the coming days to arrange a credit on your account towards lessons in term 4.

As we return to NCMA please maintain good hygiene practices:

- If you are not well, or member of your family is not well, please isolate yourself at home,
- Wash or sanitise your hands on arrival,
- Cover your cough or sneeze,
- Bring your own water bottle, and only drink from your own bottle.

We intend to continue our energy-saving initiatives for the time being, Please help us save the environment and keep costs down: dress for the occasional chill.

An official NZ Covid Tracing poster will be on display in the NCMA foyer at all times to help you maintain your own contact tracing records.

If you have an access card and enter the building via the stage door please sign in and out using the occupancy register at the stage door. This is an important fire safety measure.

Thank you for your patience and care for each other through the recent months. It is wonderful to hear your music again in person.

Nāku iti noa, nā

James Donaldson,
Director
